Greater New Haven Area

Revised 7/13/16

The CT BHP is a Partnership that consists of the Department of Children and Families (DCF), the Department of Social Services (DSS), the Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS), Beacon Health Options® and a legislatively mandated Oversight Council. Expanded in 2011 to include DMHAS, the contract is designed to create an integrated behavioral health service system for our members; Connecticut’s Medicaid populations, including children and families who are enrolled in HUSKY Health and DCF Limited Benefit programs. The primary goals of the Partnership are to provide access to and coordination of a more complete and effective system of behavioral health services and supports, and to improve overall member outcomes.

For more information on CT BHP member services, please view our Member Handbook by clicking on the following link: http://www.ctbhp.com/members/mbr\_info.htm.

COMMUNITY & PREVENTION PROGRAMS

Community Based Life Skills (CBLs) - conducted for young people ages 15 – 21 with DCF involvement. The program is designed to provide educational and experiential opportunities that have a positive impact on their growing independence and transition to adulthood, assist them in establishing a workable knowledge of community resources and supports available to them and instill the positive values of confidence, competence, and self-sufficiency.

TRAINING IN RELATIONSHIPS & EMOTIONAL COMPETENCY FOR CHILDREN (TRECC) - TRECC focuses on children between the ages of 6-17 who are having difficulty meeting school, family or social expectations due to serious emotional, behavioral and social disturbances. Children attend daily group sessions for approximately 8-12 weeks which emphasize problem-solving and relaxation skills, emotional expression, learning how emotions and actions work together, and identifying behavioral and social disturbances. Treatment also involves play, art and drama therapy, psychiatric services, and active parent/family involvement.

Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TTP) Program - The SAFE/TPP Program helps school-referred pre-teens and teenagers avoid risky behavior by promoting accountability, responsible decision-making skills, abstinence, and academic achievement as alternatives to parenthood for adolescent boys and girls. Work-based learning experiences, life skills and family education, tutoring and career education are also provided. The Consultation Center (lead agency for the Pregnancy Prevention and Parenting Network of New Haven) coordinates information for pregnant teens and teen parents. Services are provided at high school health centers and community clinics. Spanish speaking available.

Truancy Intervention Project - The project is a pre-court intervention designed to divert the filing of a Family with Service Need (FWSN) petition. This project matches interested attorney volunteers with middle school aged children who are experiencing problems with school attendance. Project experience has shown that in many cases, truancy problems can be alleviated by having a committed adult demonstrating consistent interest in the child's school attendance and providing a role model for the value of education. In other instances, relatively minor interventions, such as meeting with school personnel to address underlying issues that are causing truancy, or helping the child's family access available services, have a surprisingly beneficial impact on a child's school attendance.

Child Development-Community Policing Program (CD-CP) - In collaboration with Yale University's Child Study Center CD-CP program is an initiative for gateway offenders called PHAT Chance, attempting to address students who have already entered the criminal justice system. Adolescents age 10 to 16 are required to attend the program as part of juvenile probation. They attend four weekly sessions of between 90 to 120 minutes, with specific programming for community service, group counseling, academic support and structured recreational activities. The program involves adolescents in a peer group to stabilize antisocial behaviors, has clinicians work closely with adolescents, and develops a collaborative relationship between clinicians and juvenile justice personnel focused on the youth

The Juvenile Review Board (JRB) - Balanced and Restorative Justice Diversion approach designed for juvenile offenders. The JRB provides juvenile offenders who take responsibility for their offenses with an opportunity to avoid going to juvenile court by engaging with a panel of volunteer community members where the juvenile confronts the harm done to themselves, their victims, and their community. Parents must be actively involved in the process. The JRB is a strength-based youth development intervention which reframes the juvenile offender's behavior by addressing these behaviors as harm that can be restored. Juveniles enter into a restorative contract that both holds them accountable for their actions and focuses on their strengths and interest through youth development and youth leadership activities.

The Children's Community Programs of CT, Inc. - intensive support services to children and their families by providing in-home services, as well as to provide parenting skills to our foster, adoptive, and biological parents. The goal is to maintain children in their homes by providing the skills necessary for biological families to be reunited with their children. Families are seen at least weekly in most programs. And have 24-hour on call services. In addition to home-based services, all of our programs provide creative community resources for families including, but not limited to respite, providing or arranging for clinical services, recreational services, as well as other services, training and support. While many of our children are in out-of-home placements, the issues that our families face are similar to those faced by all parents.

Trauma Initiative - delivers behavioral health care that is sensitive and responsive to the needs of men and women who have experienced psychological trauma i.e. Seeking Safety, a therapy for trauma, substance, PTSD. TREM and M-TREM are group interventions for women (TREM) and men (M-TREM) who are trauma survivors. These groups, developed with and for members of the target population at Community Connections, are interventions that address a broad range of trauma sequelae among people with severe mental disorders and/or substance abuse problems. Both use cognitive restructuring, psycho-education, and coping skills training, weaving each of these techniques throughout the intervention, which incorporates a specific recovery topic in each weekly 75-minute session.

Telephone Recovery Support, Connecticut Community for Addiction Recovery (CCAR) - TRS helps people in recovery stay in recovery. Sometimes just a phone call can make the recipient feel wanted, included and cared about. When making the call, the caller will often feel rewarded when they have spoken to someone and can share in their joy, share in their sorrow and know that sometimes just listening and speaking with another person helps both of them immensely. A person new in recovery receives a weekly call from a trained person to check in and see how their recovery is going. On average, people receive calls for fourteen weeks, often times much longer. Recoverees can enroll online at www.ccar.us

Job Assessment, Placement, and Supports - assists adults with disabilities to enter or re-enter the workplace through the use of situational assessments, job placement and retention services, as well as on-site supports such as job coaching. Individuals are typically referred from the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services (BRS), Workers Compensation Commission (WCC), and Board of Education and Services for the Blind (BESB) and usually only require short-term assistance with finding and keeping a job. Some individuals may qualify for longer-term services from these referral sources. It is also through this program area that the state may contract with Marrakech to provide workplace-based personal care assistants (PCA) for employees with disabilities. Short-term, intensive job placement and support services are offered to those in recovery through Access to Recovery (ATR) funds designed to assist individuals with meeting their vocational goals. Individuals may private pay for services when he/she does not qualify for any other third party payer. In these cases, the state-established vocational rehabilitation fees will be utilized to develop a contract between Marrakech and the individual served.

The Urban Initiative Taking Initiative - works with people in New Haven who have not been reached by the addiction service system, as well as those who have tried treatment and had been unsuccessful. This unique alliance of networked agencies seeks to reach these people so that balance and stability may be restored to their lives. The aim of the program is to engage, motivate and support those served so that they can adopt a healthy daily routine, gain employment, and reconnect with lost relationships and opportunities. The Taking Initiative Center is a place to foster dialogue about what the next steps may be for recovery. It is also a place where people can safely talk with their peers, consult with counselors, and just get away from their normal daily routine. Individuals can make use of free laundry facility, coffee shop, computer classes, recovery groups and extensive literature. Eligibility- People residing in New Haven who are not actively involved in the service system and who have not had success with previous recovery strategies; people will be screened for DMHAS eligibility.

Young Adult Services - Marrakech provides residential services to young adults with behavioral health service needs at two sites located in New Haven. While the two sites fulfill slightly different service needs, they are similar in that they are apartment-style homes, have 24/7 staff onsite and provide support and instruction aimed at increasing the residents' ability to manage symptoms and live more independently in the community.

Gilbert Street provides transitional living services to ten young adults up to a maximum duration of 24 months. It is intended to assist residents in building independent living skills that will enable them to move to increased independence within 12 to 18 months.

The Sherman Avenue supported apartment program is designed for individuals with more intense support and supervision needs. This is a three story house with five bedrooms. There is 24/7 staff at all times in this house. The program is structured that the first floor space is suited for a person with the most intense support needs. On the second and third floors consumers have their own bedrooms but share the common areas. While the program is transitional as well, the transitional period may be more extended beyond two years. The Sherman Avenue site has the capacity to provide respite services to one person at a time. Access to the respite bed is through the CMHC YAS clinic/Marrakech/ DMHAS collaborative team.

Eligibility - Admission to the program is a team process. Individuals are referred by the Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services Young Adult Services Unit to the Catchment Area. Jointly, Marrakech and CMHC/YAS review referrals, make preliminary assessments of each individual's needs and determine an admissions decision. No individual is admitted for residential services unilaterally as individuals must have a clinical service plan, vocational or educational services, and a long term vision for his/her residential goal.
